

POLS 230 (Next Spring!)

EXPLORING LATIN AMERICAN POLITICS

PEOPLE, POWER, AND POSSIBILITIES

- Why do violence and insecurity persist across Latin America?
- Is corruption undermining democracy?
- Why is the far right gaining political ground across the region?
- How does violence shape regional poverty, investment, and prosperity?

- DEMOCRACY AND CITIZENSHIP
- PERSISTENT POVERTY AND INEQUALITY
- ECONOMIC FRUSTRATION AND INFORMAL LABOR
- MIGRATION AND DIASPORAS
- THE “TRUMPIFICATION” AND RIGHT-WING POPULIST WAVE
- SECURITY VS. CIVIL LIBERTIES

These and more questions will be explored and discussed in POLS 230: Exploring Latin American Politics.

Debate today’s headlines, dive into real cases from Mexico to Argentina, and take on hands-on projects as you uncover the forces reshaping one of the world’s most dynamic regions.

A region of complex histories, vibrant cultures, and transformative struggles.
